Inspiring children to be resilient and aspirational learners, within a positive and considerate community

Subject: RE	Year group: 2 Term: Summer 1	Title: What aspects of life really matter?
-------------	------------------------------	--

What should I already know? • The festival Sukkot • Sukkot- the Feast of the Tabernacles. • The story of the Jews in 'the wilderness' • The symbol of Sukkot • How Jews thank God for looking after them   	Facts I will learn: • To know that; people, living things, relationships and the connections that we make are what matters to us • Moses was a Jew and the prophet who led the Hebrew slaves out of Egypt. The ten commandments are rules to help us live good lives • To know how the commandments help us as they teach about respecting God, being honest, honoring our parents, keeping the Sabbath day holy, and being good people • The Jewish Shabbat or the Sabbath, Judaism's day of rest on the seventh day of the week— Saturday. To know about the Jewish tradition of Friday night dinner. • To know it is important to spend time with people because it can increase your sense of belonging and purpose 	Key questions: • Who or what matters to us? • How do we show people they are important to us? • Who is Moses and what are the ten commandments? • How do the Ten Commandments influence the life of the believer? • What is the Sabbath and how is it kept holy in Jewish households? • Why is it important to spend quality time with people who matter?
Key Skills:	Experiences that school will provide:	Key vocab Definition

• Retell the story of Moses being given the ten commandments. • To understand why people are important to us. • to know why we spend quality time with those who matter.	• create an individual booklet of who or what matters to us explaining why. • Time to reflect on things that are important to us e.g. God, family, friends.
